PASTOR JEFF LOGSDON

Pastor Jeff Logsdon has been married to his wife, Heather, for 22 years. They have four amazing children, including a nephew who they guardian. Pastor Jeff pastored in California and was part of a church plant team there. He has three degrees and his theological training has led him through as many as eight mentorships at different colleges including Fuller. He is passionate about starting healthy churches that serve the local community. The people around Hope City Church are diverse, and in many cases, impoverished. They often get overlooked, so he feels that it is a privilege to be able to actively serve their needs. He likes to run marathons, bike, watch football, read leadership books, and learn from dynamic people in our community. The Scripture that inspires Pastor Jeff and that he wants to live by is: Jesus prayed to the Father. "I have brought glory to you here on earth by completing the work that you gave me to do." (John 17:4) He imagines what it would be like to live every day with that kind of focus—listening to God's promptings and being bold enough to act on them!

KARI MARSH

Kari Marsh is the Outreach Director for Hope City Church. She loves the community around 22nd Street and has lived in the area for the past 10 years. She has a heart for those who are homeless as well as refugees. The ministry of refugees creating cloth bags with New Creation Trades was sparked by a conversation at one of the Tucson Ministry Alliance meetings. This idea certainly came from the Lord, and Kari heeded the call. Refugee women in Tucson have now made over 1000 bags which they get paid to create. Kari was born in Phoenix and spent 20 years as an FBI agent before retiring. She loves to create - whether it's food, sewing, knitting, arts and crafts, or even memories. The Scripture that inspires her is: "Love never gives up, never loses faith, is always hopeful, and endures through every circumstance." 1 Corinthians 13:7
